STUDENT VOICES

Erlyn Alexander
Alumna
Diploma in Music

I spent close to 15 hours in classes and practicing daily, so NAFA was like a second home to me. We often had friendly competitions, which pushed us to become better. No matter the outcome, the NAFA family was always there to support one another through successes and even failures. If you are planning to come here, the NAFA family will always welcome you!

Danielle Ong Min Lee
Alumna
Bachelor of Music (Honours)

Music is extremely versatile, and through NAFA, I gained from my peers' experiences and cultivated my own ideas and methods to teach and learn. We had experienced countless failures and triumphs together as a section, and most importantly, seen each other grow from amateurs to professionals. This camaraderie carried me through and made me the person and musician I am today!

Teo Ya Qi
Alumna
Diploma in Music Teaching

I pursued my passion and woke up every morning feeling motivated to become a better me. I found myself fully immersed in music and decided to pursue my dream at NAFA. Being Singapore's pioneer arts education institution, it provided a holistic experience, and the biggest gain was the friendships I had forged with people who love music just as much as me. They were the ones who picked me up at my lowest and completed this journey with me together.

Lee Wen Xiang
Alumnus
Bachelor of Education (Honours) in Instrumental & Vocal Teaching

NAFA's curriculum enhanced my teaching through real-life examples and developing a teaching portfolio, prompting deeper reflection on teaching methods. At RCM, I gained insights into effective music teaching techniques, witnessed professional conduct, and adopted a systematic, positive approach. Both experiences have profoundly influenced my current teaching practice.
